Going Forward: From Sunday School to Wednesday School?

One of the most important features of a Christian church, what sets it apart from a social club or community service organization, is its attention to the spiritual life of its members. All Christians might agree that the spiritual path is about sustaining a relationship with God through Jesus Christ; however, the particulars of how that is accomplished vary.

The Episcopal tradition invokes tradition (as in the liturgies of worship), scripture (offered in our bible lectionary) and reason (our God-given abilities to apply learning and understanding) as mutually foundational pathways for encountering the holy. We invoke the first two in each worship experience.

The exercising of reason calls for a bit more: a commitment to going a little deeper by reading, listening, and praying in community. Jesus never taught that our faith should be an exclusively private affair; we are meant to exercise our reason together, to learn from one another in an environment of mutual support without judgment. This deeper level of spiritual commitment is foundational to the health of any church. More important than a beautiful building, a long shared history, or a comfortable bank account, what sustains a congregation together over time is their intentional, transformational growth in the love of God, together. How this happens is somewhat different and somewhat the same in each congregation.

Since this past year's commitment to hold Sunday School for Adults and Children every week during the 2018-2019 season was not met with sufficient participation to justify continuing to offer it on Sunday Mornings, I have proposed that Church of the Advent try something new in scheduling Christian Formation opportunities for Adults and Children on Wednesday nights.

As a follow up to a recent survey of a group of parishioners who have been regular attenders of Wednesday night worship and Christian Formation programs during the past year, a group of them met for an open discussion on what might work going forward to support our spiritual growth in community.

The consensus is was to continue with the current schedule of monthly worship with Evening Prayer (weekly Holy Eucharist during Lent), followed by a program for Adults with discussion. The most popular topics for consideration were World Religions, Christian History, and Being Christian in a Contentious World. Most agreed that sharing a meal is important, though there would always be the freedom for anyone to attend the 30 minute worship without feeling an obligation to stay.

Because gathering adults for Christian Formation has been more successful on Wednesday nights than on Sunday mornings, it has been suggested that we try the same kids. We could offer a monthly Wednesday evening program of kid-friendly worship, followed by a kid-friendly meal and a faith-based program or activity for our children and their friends. Parents would be encouraged to participate if able, and other adults in the parish would need to commit some time and energy to the project for it to work. Children are not only the future of the Church, but they are going to have to care for the world we are leaving to them, and they could use a strong and sustaining faith for that task.

Being God's Church calls for recurrent renewal, recommitment, and resurrection, and this occasionally means trying something new. I ask that you ponder these things in your heart, listen to what the Spirit of God is saying to this Church, and offer your ideas, feedback, support and leadership to this new project to begin in September 2019.

All Blessings,
Ellen+

Relay for Life

The Church of the Advent annual drive for Relay for Life/American Cancer Society funds to benefit Martin County raised $440 during the very hectic month of April. Sadly, Martin County did not host a Relay for Life event this year so I went to the Hope Lodge in Greenville which is the home of our local ACS and also houses adult cancer patients for free from surrounding counties -- including Martin -- during their chemotherapy and radiation treatment. It is very similar to Ronald McDonald houses. The facility is quite impressive and offers a true home away from home for over 200 patients and caregivers a year. One guest wrote: "Warm thoughts and kind gestures can make the sun a little brighter, the sky a little bluer and the world a little nicer. That is what you, the Hope Lodge community, have done for my family."

Assuming there is no Relay for Life next year, Kit and I have discussed raising funds as well as collecting much needed items -- socks, magazines, robes, hygiene products -- for one of our Outreach projects.
